Special Products Service

United Van Lines has the expertise to handle your high value products safely and on time. Our trained professionals know how to handle the most challenging and delicate shipments.

As the leader in the household goods industry, United has over 55 years experience in providing blanket wrap service. Our fleet can handle dock-to-dock, inside pick up/delivery and crated shipments. We can also provide basic set up and removal of debris.

High Value Products/Electronics

United's high value products fleet is fully air ride equipped to reduce vibration. We blanket wrap shipments before loading and just as important, we understand the need to stay on schedule.

Specialized equipment such as high load capacity ramps, heavy-duty dollies, decking and cargo straps are available to ensure the protection and safe arrival of your high value product shipments.

Store Fixtures

Whether your transportation needs require inside pick up and delivery or dock-to-dock service, United is ready to meet the challenge. It starts with blanket wrap service and continues with scheduling and coordinating for on time deliveries for store openings and multi-store rollouts.

Trust United to provide value and professional service you won't find anywhere else.

Museum/Fine Art

From delicate antiques to priceless fine art, United has the expertise to successfully manage and transport your specialized shipments. We take extra care with these valuable pieces, providing blanket wrap service as well as custom-built crates so each piece is safely protected. A fleet of specially trained Van Operators ensures that your irreplaceable items receive the best possible care.

Exhibits and Trade Shows

United's experienced and dependable Van Operators take pride in safeguarding every exhibit, providing blanket wrap service when extra protection is needed.

We understand that having your exhibit arrive on time and free of damage is crucial to the success of your show. No matter how complex the exhibit or handling requirements, United has the expertise to bring it all together for a successful show. Whether you're attending one show or taking part in a tour, United can get the job done consistently and cost-effectively.
